

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR

Sally Bytheway Brinton, was born and raised in Salt Lake City, Utah, USA. She graduated from East High School, Salt Lake City, Utah, USA. At East High School she was a member of Accapella and Madrigals. She studied vocal training for ten years with Gayle Brockbank Lockwood and Kim Riggs Hess. She has taught vocal technique privately and directed choirs for the past 30 years. She co-founded Touch of Class, a local trio which performs in elementary schools arranged by ARTS, Inc. (Artistic Resources for Teachers and Students) to teach students about classical and American composers. She has performed on stages throughout Utah, Idaho and California, as well as Israel.

She resides in Draper, Utah, USA, with her husband, Michael Brinton, and has six children and eleven grandchildren.

ABOUT THE CHORALE

The Sally Bytheway Chorale was founded in 2005 by its director, Sally Bytheway Brinton. The 60-voice chorale includes former members of the Tabernacle Choir on Temple Square, the Eleanor Kennard Chorale, and Lex DeAzevado's Millennium Choir.

The Chorale performs a variety of styles including jazz, contemporary, patriotic, gospel and sacred music. Auditions are required for entrance into the Chorale. The Chorale performs two series of concerts each year; one in the spring and the other at Christmas time.

The Chorale is accompanied by Natalie Styer.

The Sally Bytheway Chorale has performed at various venues both domestically and internationally. They regularly have standing-room-only concerts at their semi-annual concerts. In 2011, the chorale was named Best of State in the Vocal Group category and won the Choice in Community Award from Utah's Entertainment and Choice Awards. In 2014, the chorale performed in Budapest, Hungary; Prague, Czech Republic; and Vienna, Austria. In 2019, the chorale performed in Salzburg and Mondsee, Austria; Bled and Ljubljana, Slovenia; and Zagreb, Croatia. The 2024 Europe tour includes concerts in Colmar and Strasbourg, France; Lucerne, Switzerland; and Stresa, Italy.
